Learn what your hound is trying to communicate to you...

When & Where

Date:
March 1, 2009

Time:
1:30pm to 4:30pm

Location:
Houn' House

An afternoon of learning how to understand your Greyhound and/or your foster Greyhound:

- Dog Behaviors (Mary Waugh Swindell - Dog Trainer)
- Calming Signals
- Stress Signals
- Tips and Suggestions / handouts
- Q & A

Mary will be narrating through dog interaction, explaining stress signals, indicators and other communication skills that are happening to the dogs while you watch. Video clips, from the video "Calming Signals", will also be available to show various calming signals between dogs and people. This presentation will help you learn what your hound is trying to communicate and how to better reach them in their native tongue!

The following people will be on hand if anyone is interested in learning more about being a GALT volunteer or fostering a GALT dog.

- Volunteering with GALT (Claire Pulfer / Kristin Fields)
- Fostering for GALT (Jennifer Henager / Barb Bray)

Please mark your calendars and come spend that afternoon with other GALT Greyhound adopters and foster families and learn what your Greyhound is trying to tell you when it behaves a certain way.

You are invited to bring one (1) of your Greyhounds or one (1) of your GALT foster Greyhounds, per family, to this event. This will give you a chance to practice any technique learned while the expert is present to give advise as needed. If you bring a Greyhound - Please bring a muzzle in case it is needed!

We look forward to seeing you all there.
